INQUIRES ABOUT THE CITY PAVING

City Commissioners Are Asked to Bring in Report on Work Done.

SOME DISCUSSION ON MILK INSPECTOR

Suggestion Made of Lift at Walker's Flats and Enlargement of South Side Hospital.

Edmonton to have a paving section similar to that in the present time. Questions asked by Ald. Clarke at the council meeting last night would indicate that much more paving was done.

At the council meeting Ald. Clarke moved that the commissioners report on the paving contracts and operations in this city. Ald. Londy seconded the motion. The question arose.

When the advertisement calling for tenders for paving contracts for the year 1912 was published.

How much paving was done in 1912 was stipulated in said advertisement.

When contracts were let; for how much, and to what firm or company?

Whether the paving was to be done in the contractors' private interest or in the interest of the public?

Whether any further contracts will be let than those now in force during 1912?

If any contracts are to be let for how much, and whether it is the duty of the commissioners to call for new tenders?

Have the commissioners undertaken behalf of the citizens any special interest of the work to be done by the contractors outside that done by the engineering department?

If not, why not? and have the work inspected under the commissioners' direction?

Whether any commissioners in report to the council last night suggested that Thomas Walker, for many years a member of the city commission, be appointed acting city attorney and census commissioner. Ald. Clarke moved that the commissioners bring in the pre-rogatives and rights held sacred to the council. He said that he would like to say who should be city attorney and census commissioner.

May 31—It was pointed out that the protection of trade and interests was in the hands of the commissioners and that they were quite willing to use their rights in making such a recommendation.

Census enumerator.

Ald. May 31—A point of oil on the troubled waters by suggesting that he had a couple of motions that he thought should be introduced. Nearly every member of the council had a fresh resolution or motion to make, and he suggested that Ald. Douglas, it was decided to appoint Mr. Walker as acting assessor and to make him census commissioner. Robert Hamilton had been in the land titles office for many years and, according to several of the men, was a good census enumerator.

Clean-up day will not do much in each city, but when a letter from the medical health officer was read, the doctor declared that the city was in a condition nobly to the call for cleanliness in back yards and lanes. But following the suggestion of the health department, the health department had managed to clean up the vacant lots on Jasper Avenue, and the clean-up day will open at 10 o'clock on Tuesday, July 1st. It is understood that the city will clean up the streets, and the citizens at a hand.

Winnipeg, May 31—Increase of license.

A committee was appointed to appear before the legislative committee of the city council to urge that the city be granted a liquor license. This matter was brought before the legislative committee Monday evening, and the association believed that the case was not properly represented, and is confident that the city will be granted a license. They point out that, while the city is in a condition to be granted a license, it is not likely to be a large representation at the council meeting.

The matter was referred to the legislative committee, with Ald. May as an added member. The latter further suggested that the health department have a man or two work on Jasper Avenue every two weeks to keep the streets clean of paper and trash, and keep them generally clean.

Apparatus for Milk Inspector.

Dr. Whitehead reported that the board of health had decided to purchase a 1000-watt apparatus for the use of the milk inspector, recommended by the income, according to the city engineer.

Vancouver, May 31—The city council stirred up Alderman Clarke and May. They intimated that the affair of the new fire department was far enough. They thought that the health officer had been ordered to purchase a 1000-watt apparatus, and the use of apparatus, recommended by the income, two months ago.

Ald. Douglass suggested that the health officer had been told to resign. It was good advice.

Ald. Douglass suggested that the council was doing a little "boiling in" on its own account when they asked for a report from an inspector over the head of the department in which he worked. Ald. East had an idea that this matter had been referred to Dr. Whitehead, and Dr. Whitehead agreed to settle, and he thought that his report from Dr. Whitehead was the best. That resolution passed by the council.

The legislative committee, with the health officer, will go to Dr. Whitehead to settle, and he will, without the matter further discussed.

Why Petition Not Acted On.

The city commissioners reported that they had received a petition from the Hudson's Bay company asking for local improvements in the region of the Hudson's Bay post. The petition was received, was because it was felt that the price asked for the lots might be too high. The petition was referred to the land surveyor, and the land surveyor was surveyed and the price was set.

The commissioners reported that:

"In connection with the two branch telephone exchange stations, for local improvements in the region of the Hudson's Bay post, a petition was received, and tendered been received and awarded for same. The amount

LUMBER CASE HEARD IN SUPREME COURT

Five Lumber Co. Testing Ruling of the Dominion Government in Imposing Duty on Lumber Sawn on One Side Placed on the Other.

Ottawa, May 31—Mr. Justice Casson, sitting in the Supreme Court of Canada, heard the argument in the Lumber Co. versus the King. This case involves the right of the Dominion to impose a duty on the importation of lumber from the United States, which is known as one of the chief lumbering countries.

The government is determined not to repeat the mistake made during the last trial of striking the lumber from the United States.

 JOHN HOWET, C. F. HATER,
 Managing Editor.

SATURDAY, JUNE 1, 1912.

The Lord High Executioner is still on the job. His latest victim is the superintendent of the buffalo park at Wainwright. This gentleman has been in the public employ for four some years! that he has given efficient service is not denied. The Government parties who know him declare that he has carefully abstained from taking any part in political matters. None of these things count, however, with Ministers who have surrendered to the spoilsmen, and who despise the demagogue.

With the talk in Edmonton at present in regard to the necessity of more sanitary inspectors, it may be interesting to note that Hamilton, Ontario, has just appointed a woman, Miss Kate Wilshire, one of the municipality's sanitary inspectors. This is said to be the first appointment of its kind in Canada. The reasons given for this appointment are that women sanitary inspectors are acceptable to women in the factory and in the home, and to put it as the old lady one did speaking for all women: "If we must 'ave somebody afterin' in our dust bins and backyards, we'd rather 'ave a lady, and her a nice young lady, too."

Mr. Foster has been characterizing the patronage system as operated by himself and his colleagues as "dramatic." From what has been seen of it hereabouts, he is right. But the Minister need not expect his proficiency, even should it may be, to gain him much sympathy. As he is now being driven to desperation, by the lack of support from the grey heads, he and his colleagues have themselves to thank. They celebrated their accession to office by starting a grand carnival of slaughter among the civil servants, and showered commissionships and lesser jobs among their clamorous followers like pistol-shots. And when on the capture of a captured man, naturally, the speciale drew attention in two quarters: the army of applicants increased, and the public began to take notice of the shameful performance. Thus trouble threatened the Ministers from two directions. As jobs grow fewer, the danger of wholesale dismissals among the public grows greater. It is while struggling between the demands of the still unapposed and the thoughts of retribution to come that the Minister ejaculates his disgust. It is in every way satisfactory that he is finding the position unconfortable.

Mr. Borden has issued another official statement on the naval question. It is now announced that the Premier, the Minister of Marine, and another member of the cabinet will go to London next month to consult with the Admiralty. Coming on the heels of last week's official statement that the Government had not considered any proposal, this announcement hints that nothing of the kind was at all probable, this announcement would create some surprise under other circumstances. In the present instance, may only one mild wonder as to what the next move of the panicky Ministers may be. Nothing that they might propose in the naval question could very well come as a surprise at this time. They have already occupied all the possible positions on the question, from that of absolute indifference, to that of having Imperialism to that have pledged themselves in different parts of the country to every possible proposal, from the one that we should make a direct cash donation to the British Admiralty to the one that we should do nothing ing at all toward naval defense.

The chief interest in the present announcement may be as to whether the proposed visit will really take place, or whether this latest declaration of intent will also be called off on some pretext or other.

The decision of the Borden Government to consult the Admiralty on the naval question must be assumed to be due to the discovery that the country is more in earnest on that question than the Ministers thought. The announcement of the Premier last week that no consideration had been given to the matter, was only to mean that since the naval issue had not been taken up by the Borden Government, a declaration that a Ministerial delegation would visit the Old Land nothing at all has been done in the direction of a maritime defense policy. This intimation coincides exactly with the general attitude of the Government on this question. The course of the Ministers from the first has been one to conform with the idea that they will act in this matter only when and so far as the pressure of public opinion compels them to act. They do not, to put it mildly, aspire to lead public opinion in the direction of Imperial obligation, and the Government's own great willingness even to be pushed in that direction by public opinion. At present, however, it looks as though the pushing is to last but two in motion, and if it is kept up who knows but it may result in something being really done? If the Ministers have really made up their minds to do something, it may be creded to their discovery that the public is determined that something shall be done.

NEWS OF THE DISTRICT
WETASKIWIN:

Minister's Service.
 A small annual board of trade executive held on Wednesday afternoon, many business matters pertaining to the town were discussed and much business was completed. There was a good meeting was most enthusiastic as to the future of the city. The most interesting feature was the reading of a resolution passed authorizing the laying for tenders for the erection of a new fire hall. The hall will be built on the site of the old fire hall. This building will be located at the corner of Peel and Railway streets and will be a much more commodious hall than the old one.

The structure will be in iron and will be 40 feet wide and 60 feet deep. The cost will be $10,000. The building will be used for a double purpose. The city will be appointed to the new hall and the old hall will be used for a double purpose.

A forward step was taken by the school trustees when Mr. A. F. Penman, editor of the School school papers, will conduct both services in Methodist church on Sunday.

The town council held a special meeting on June 13th.

At about three o'clock yesterday the roof of Mr. Travis Barker's house, a two-story brick, caught fire from the explosion of a small fire stove which was on the roof, incidental to the burning of the house. The fire stations responded. Chemicals were used to extinguish the flames. No injuries were suffered.

The monthly communion service with the Rev. Mr. G. W. H. Smith, pastor of the First Baptist church on Sunday morning was suspended because of the explosion. The pulpit will be occupied on Sunday evening by Rev. G. C. Sprey, who is in Edmonton attending a conference. Mr. Sprey is a frequent guest at Government House. Special services will be held.

HOSPITAL TOO SMALL.

Already the Royal Alexandra hospital is proving too small for the number of patients it is receiving at present. The state of affairs is shown in a letter from the president of the Royal Alexandra hospital commissioners in reply to a report that's been making a general admission because of her "mortal" condition.

In his letter Mr. Fraser says: "The commissioners are now refusing to admit any patients on account of the hospital being too small." The letter goes on to say that the commissioners are being refused, however, for lack of public and semi-public accommodations in the city, and the hospital to its capacity, although we have done our best to accommodate the patients in the hospital. The situation is simply that the commissioners are being meddled with on a plan for an additional wing, providing for larger accommodations for patients, but the commissioners and semi-public wards."

At a meeting of the hospital board will be held very shortly, at which plan for construction of a new wing will be discussed.

R. 1, Blinney, Kananaskis, Garrison, Lethbridge, Taber, Tofield, Vegreville, Virden, Wainwright, Whitecourt.

The examination in these three grades will be conducted in three days during the same days and under the same preceding examiners. MATTER OF WATER PRESSURE.

Superintendent Parsons of the power plant has suggested that the water pressure reduced somewhat as soon as possible. In a letter to the commissioners he pointed out that the water pressure in the system was directly proportional to the pressure on the mains and suggested that the water pressure in the system pressure for general use.

It is also suggested that the power plant keep up a constant pressure of not less than 100 pounds per square inch greater than that asked by the underwriters. For general use the pressure should be not less than 100 pounds and still give sufficient pressure.

It is also suggested that the fire pressure be put on only when the fire alarm is sounded. At present, whenever an alarm is sounded, the water pressure is increased even though the fire may be of little or no account and easily extinguished.

The heads of departments will be called in to consider the matter.

Another complaint has been received from a resident of Jasper avenue.

REWARD OF $50,000 OFFERED BY RELATIONS

Of Late Sir John Harvey Scott For Relations Attacked Amendment to Will

Offered $50,000 as Reward of Five Million Dollars.

London, May 20.—A romantic story of a lost codicil, on which turns the dispute between Sir John Harvey Scott's heirs, is contained in an advertisement in a New Zealand newspaper. The offer of $50,000 for the discovery of the formally executed codicil, which is said to have been found among the papers of the late Sir John Harvey Scott, who died in 1909, and which caused his widow, Mrs. Wallace, to leave the Wallace collection to the nation, while his whole estate, including personalty, his whole codicil, a French chateau, and a villa, are worth one million dollars, to Lady Sackville.

In the codicil, which can be found in the roughly drawn codicil, the results will be divided among the heirs, and the sum of a legacy of twenty or thirty thousand dollars from the estate will be given to Lady Sackville's next of kin, D. Malcolm Scott, and his wife, and to the widow of Sir John's son, D. Malcolm Scott, and his three brothers and two sisters. Sir John made his will in 1909, and it is believed that he never carried the draft codicil further into the form of a codicil, as he died before it was admitted to probate.

SIX CANDIDATES FOR VACANCIES ON ALDERMANIC BOARD

Major Theriault and Mr. Alex. Livingston nominated for Two-year Term

J. M. MACDONALD, LAWYER
IS THE ONLY SURPRISE

D. B. Campbell, E. H. Gotterelli and J. J. Denman are the Other Nominees

For two-year term—
Joseph Eugene Theriault
Alexander Livingston for the first time this year—
David B. Campbell
Ernest Henry Gotterelli
James J. Denman
James M. Macdonald
Since candidates nominated yesterday for the six vacancies on the council board caused by the resignations of Ald. Gowans, Ald. Macdonald and Ald. Denman, there were no surprises, the only candidate whose name had not been mentioned as a possible nominee being J. M. Macdonald, a lawyer of the firm of Robertson, Dickson and Macdonald.
Only two candidates were nominated for the first time to fill the vacant vacancy by the resignation of Ald. Gowans.
These candidates were Alexander Livingston, merchant, and Joseph Eugene Theriault, merchant.

Those nominated for the shorter term are Ernest H. Gotterelli, civil engineer; David B. Campbell, merchant;
James J. Denman, coal dealer, and James M. Macdonald, lawyer.

With the exception of the first few moments in their meeting nearly all made out for the longer term, but there was no decided majority.

After the first few moments in the meeting of the two candidates for the shorter term, the question was put out for the shorter term.

James M. Macdonald, who was the "surprise" candidate, was asked yesterday afternoon by a Bullock reporter if he was going to run.

"What makes you think that?" he asked.
"You get nomination papers from the city," he was told.
"No," he declared. "I was just getting the paper for a client of mine when I was asked if I had any news about anything about me being a candidate yet."

So it is evident that Mr. Macdonald had come up in his mind to be a candidate within the last few days.

After the nominations were all in,
James J. Denman, returning officer, announced that the poll would be held next Friday from nine in the morning until six o'clock in the evening.

The polling places were fixed as follows:

All that district north of the river and west of Ninth street, at 1126 Jasper Avenue, the office of H. Cook, assistant deputy returning officer.

Between First and Ninth streets and north of river lot 4 at the corner of First and Ninth streets, with J. H.
D. Mithot, deputy returning officer.

East of First street and south of Church street, with J. H. D. Mithot, at the city hall, James Breckinridge, deputy returning officer.

Between First and Ninth streets
and south of the river, with J. H.

On the South Side, ward one, at 221 Whyte Avenue East, Harvey
Chapman, deputy returning officer.

The votes will be made in the council chamber at eleven o'clock on the morning after the election.

So far none of the candidates have made any definite arrangements in regards to their campaign, but it is understood that joint meetings of the candidates will be held on all four evening next week before election day.

The nomination papers of the various candidates with the names of those who signed them are as follows:

pective nominees of Ald. Gowans, Alexander

Value for Money

is D. Shugarman's slogan. Under it he has built up a substantial business in men's wear of the highest quality. Whatever the article may be, the value stands out boldly in contrast to the price asked for it. This is a policy which spells success.

Tomorrow

will be a big day, a red-letter day, a regular field day. There will be a parade of values never attempted in Edmonton before—values which will make an irresistible appeal to every man in the city. One glance will convince the keenest buyer of the truth of this statement. Visit the store and be convinced.

Our Sale

has been a splendid success; but we are not contented. We are attempting something we have not yet achieved, and tomorrow will witness something sensational at D. Shugarman's. Let nothing prevent you from paying us a visit tomorrow, as we definitely promise you something in the nature of bargains.

The Entire Stock

has been overhauled and every article marked down to the limit for tomorrow's distribution. Everything for Men. Everything of the first quality. Everything at sale price. Be sure you get the right store. Look for the Big Yellow Sign.

MAN WITH PICK GETS MORE THAN PASTOR

Small Services That Are Paid
Proceeds Discovered at Opening Session of Second Annual Gathering of the Alberta
Baptist Association.

The second annual meeting of the Alberta Baptist Convention opened yesterday at the Baptist Church, Main street, with a large attendance. The Baptist Association was organized at Fort Macleod in 1893, and at the annual convention at Lethbridge, 1911, was changed into the Alberta Baptist Convention, which is the name of the new policy of the Baptist Union of the West.

Rev. M. A. MacLean, of Calgary, is president of the 1912 convention, and presented a report of the work done, following the schedule to the minute.

Rev. W. H. Bracken, of Ponoka, spoke on the advantages of Long Pastorate. He said the short, part-time pastorates of the past were a semi-annual, annual or biennial service to the church, and that the part-time pastorates intensified the joy of service, increased the spiritual influence of the church, and strengthened the bonds of years of association between pastor and people.

Superintendent MacLaurin led the discussion by remarking that many ministers who have been in the pastorate for a short time have lost sight of the power and influence inherent in the office, and that a pastor who enters a field he should know out as well as in.

Rev. Mr. Kempster, of Calgary, Illinois, on the relationship of pastor and people to the church, said that a lifetime pastorate is a success when this is the case, and should be a success in the west.

Other speakers favored the long pastorate, and about a year. The Rev. Mr. MacLean cited an example of a pastor who was not a success in his work.

Rev. Jas. Brachen of Ponoka, told how to secure a Long Pastorate. Brachen, who is considered a spiritual giant for both pastor and people. He told the assembly that the first thing the Baptist church for there were no greater need than to secure a long pastorate, and to tell them what to do. He suggested that the pastor receive a salary of $1,000 a month.

Thus, Underwood, a business man of Ponoka, who had been a member of each did their business, more would be done for the christening of the west.

One speaker referred to the importance of the long pastorate. Another said that some people thought the pastor should be a slave to the church, for the salaries were so small.

The chairman concluded the discussion by saying that the long pastorate received a smaller salary than the man with a short pastorate.

Rev. H. H. McGill gave a ten-minute address on the subject of "The Study of His Story." Study and prayerful inspiration are essentials for the pastor to be successful in his work on the throne. It is necessary that a preacher be a student of his story, for then the pastor becomes the heir of all the ages and has laid a foundation for the service of God and his people.

Rev. C. T. Holman of Medicine Hat, gave an address on "The Study of His Pulpit." Three essentials of effectual pulpit work are: (1) a message from God—a real living message,—not what God is said to have said; (2) A message that is to be delivered with a sound word through the self-sacrificing ing love of God. This is a social message of love for our fellowship. (3) The preacher should be a man of God, preaching "Christ crucified to save the world."

In the discussion of this subject, the speakers were unanimous.

"If the preacher does not know his message, he cannot tell it, though he may speak forever."

"Congregations are often more complete than the preachers."

"The congregation is looking for an answer."

This afternoon the business session of the convention will open. At 4.30 p.m. the services will begin with a service by the local Baptists in the basement of the First Baptist Presbyterian church, which has been generously loaned for the gathering.

Genius Pig Powers Brains.

Gettysburg, Pa., May 31.—Only one week ago the world was astounded by the genius of a pig, and now another, according to Col. Roosevelt, can claim the title of "genius." Congressman Fitzgerald's speech, Passaic, N. J., was enough. Mr. Fitzgerald read what Col. Roosevelt had written to him, and said Roosevelt, relating to alterations in the law, "I am not in a position to do it during my life-time,"²⁵ to be permanent.

Fitzgerald's announcement of the permanent law was the second discussion," said Col. Roosevelt here yesterday. "The first was on the bill to prohibit the use of horses, especially in terms of galloping pig power. That kind of legislation can only be headed by the brains of about three gutter-pig power."
